Pigminted

True story!

My cousin Harry came to America when he was 15.

And when he went to school, he didn't understand this one question.
What is your gender?

So, he always chose "F," because he thought it looked better.

This lead to many problems.

Who the hell is this Harry girl?

He eventually figured it out.

But to this day,
he is still our Harry girl.